Red Moonship Grabs Rocks, Heads Home

Lunar Highlands Samples Taken By Drilling Rig

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet moon ship Luna 20 scooped up rock samples from the rugged lunar highlands and started them back toward the earth today in a rocket, Tass announced.

The Soviet news agency said the spacecraft's landing stage remained on the moon but did not indicate what further tasks it might carry out.

Tass said the container holding the rock samples will separate from the rocket and parachute to earth in the Soviet Union on Friday. The agency did not say where the craft is expected to land, but Soviet spacecraft are usually recovered in the steppes of Kazakhstan.

Tass announced Tuesday that Luna 20 had landed on a mountainous isthmus between the Sea of Fertility and the Sea of Crisis, a site it said was ideal for the study of the origin of the moon.

Today's announcement said the unmanned spaceship "has successfully carried out a program of operations on the moon."

Tass said Luna 20 relayed pictures of the lunar surface back to earth.

"A device for taking samples drilled lunar rock and took the samples," the report continued. "Because of the great strength of the rock, the drilling was done in several stages with intervals during which the drilling rig was stopped."

It added that the returning rocket was traveling on a course close to that planned for it.

It is the second time that a Soviet moon ship has collected samples of the lunar surface for return to earth. Luna 16 landed in the Sea of Fertility in September 1970, scooped up 3.5 ounces of sandy soil and returned to earth.

37 Attacks Made By VC; Most Minor

SAIGON (AP) — Communist forces made 37 more attacks against government troops across South Vietnam and shelled the big U.S. Army Support Command in the central coastal city of Qui Nhon, wounding four Americans, military authorities reported today.

Most of the attacks appeared to be of the small-scale, hit-and-run variety and about half were by rockets and mortars, which has been the pattern since the latest surge of enemy activity began last Saturday.

Incomplete reports said 19 South Vietnamese were killed and 76 wounded during the 24-hour reporting period ending at 6 a.m. today. The Saigon command claimed 158 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops were killed in scattered fighting.

In three major assaults, the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed 15 South Vietnamese and wounded 19, field reports said. Enemy losses in the assaults were not known.

The four U.S. soldiers were wounded when seven mortar rounds hit the Support Command headquarters shortly before midnight and damaged some buildings.

In the air war, Air Force F4 escorts bombed anti-aircraft guns inside North Vietnam Tuesday after the guns fired on an unarmed reconnaissance plane about 45 miles north of the demilitarized zone, the U.S. Command said. The results of the bombing were not known and the U.S. aircraft were not damaged, a spokesman added.

The command said it was the 63rd protective reaction strike inside North Vietnam this year.

Laird Foresees Air Force Planes On Navy Carriers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, moving to shake up traditional service roles, foresees the day when Air Force planes will fly from Navy aircraft carriers.

This is one of Laird's long-range ideas for giving the Air Force a share in control of the seas, which always has been a Navy mission.

Asked how the Navy would react, Laird told an interviewer he believes Adm. Elmo R. Zumwalt Jr., chief of naval operations, would "go along with sharing his carriers with the Air Force."

But one Air Force general reacted explosively, saying "we're not going to become tailhookers." Tailhooker is the nickname for carrier pilots.

Such a development as Laird envisions would require that Air Force fliers be trained to land and take off from carrier decks.

Although Air Force officers recoil at the idea of flying from aircraft carriers, they claim they can handle sea-control patrols from strategically located land bases in such places as the Azores, Newfoundland, Iceland and Greenland.

In his annual report to Congress last week, Laird spoke for the first time of the need for "a new order of service partnership" and for "the courage to look anew at parochial and outdated roles and missions assignments."

Laird plans to stay on as secretary of Defense for perhaps another year, so his successor probably would inherit the burden of pushing through any revolutionary changes in service roles over objections of admirals and generals.

Denying he has any intention to blur service identities, Laird said with a smile: "I'm not going to put them into the same uniform."

Laird said he was offering various ideas "to get the services thinking" about closer cooperation as the U.S. armed forces are being reduced to their lowest strength in more than 20 years.

Among other things, Laird said, the Air Force's F111 fighter bombers could be used against Soviet naval units in such areas as the Mediterranean, the Caribbean and the North Sea.

"The Air Force has developed tactics and has updated training manuals for ship attacks," Laird said.

Bitter School Busing Fight Seen On U.S. Senate Floor

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today heads into what is expected to be a bitter floor fight over proposals to ban busing of school children to achieve racial integration.

Under consideration is a $23-billion higher-education bill to which the House has tied a $1.5-billion school-desegregation fund asked by President Nixon.

The House tacked onto the $1.5-billion measure three anti-busing amendments. Southern Democratic senators plan to use the same bill as the basis for their own proposals aimed at federal court-ordered busing.

But several of the strongest foes of court-ordered busing have said they do not believe any such legislative enactments will be effective.

They said the courts have ruled consistently that the equal-protection clause of the 14th Amendment overrides legislative bans on busing. Thus, they say, the only solution is a constitutional amendment.

The $23 billion would provide annual grants up to $1,400 to college students from low-income families, continuation of present work-study and loan programs for students, and increased institutional support to colleges and universities.

The Senate is considering the bill under an agreement which will bring a final vote a week from today. Two hours will be allowed on each of 35 amendments, many of which deal with busing.

Antibusing amendments were defeated when the Senate first considered its version of the $1.5-billion school-desegregation measure last April.

But the issue has become much hotter since then, particularly in view of the recent federal court order that school districts in two adjoining counties must be combined with schools in Richmond, Va., city for desegregation purposes.

George Scott Again Given Oscar Nod

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Glenda Jackson and George C. Scott, who won Academy Awards last year, are nominees again as the best movie actress and actor.

Scott, who refused the Oscar he won in 1971 for the title role in "Patton," was nominated Tuesday for his role as a cynical doctor in "Hospital." Miss Jackson won as the best actress in a leading role last year for "Women in Love." She's nominated this time for "Sunday Bloody Sunday."

There was no immediate word on reaction from Scott about the new nomination.

He refused to accept his Academy Award last year after calling the Oscar presentations a "meat parade."

All 10 supporting actors and actresses nominated are first-time nominees, an Academy first.

Winners will receive their Oscars on April 10.

The Academy nominated as best picture of 1971 "Fiddler on the Roof," "The French Connection," "The Last Picture Show," all three of which shared the most nominations, "Nicholas and Alexandra" and "A Clockwork Orange."

The only American nominated for best leading actress is Jane Fonda, who played a prostitute in "Klute." Miss Jackson and the other nominees—Julie Christie for "McCabe and Mrs. Miller," Vanessa Redgrave for "Mary, Queen of Scots," and Janet Suzman for "Nicholas and Alexandra"—are British.

Nominated with Scott as best leading actor were Peter Finch, "Sunday Bloody Sunday," Walter Matthau, "Kotch," Gene Hackman "The French Connection," and Topol, "Fiddler on the Roof."

Partisans Hover Over Ohio Strip Mine Bill

By PERRY SMITH
Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A controversial bill to toughen Ohio's strip mine laws went into a three-man subcommittee for hearings today, while both supporters and opponents watched with partisan eyes.

Many of the more than 250 spectators who packed a Senate Urban and Highway Affairs Committee meeting Tuesday predicted the bill would be gutted and watered down during the next week of subcommittee hearings.

"We will be looking at the members of this committee," said Evelyn Stebbins, of Rocky River, Ohio, chairman of the Citizens Committee for Clean Air and Water.

"We will be deciding whether you are looking out for the public or whether you have sold your soul to the strip miners," she said.

Mrs. Stebbins threw the committee into turmoil and spectators into three rounds of applause when she said the Republican leadership in the legislature had sold out to strip mine interests by sending the bill to the Urban and Highway Affairs Committee rather than to the Environmental Affairs Committee, which would ordinarily handle such legislation.

"The reason," she added, "is obvious—Sen. Oakley Collins has stolen coal from public land."

Collins, a strip mine operator whose company is under federal indictment for mining 30 acres of Wayne National Forest land in southeastern Ohio, objected to the testimony. Sen. Harry Armstrong, R-17 Logan, committee chairman, sustained the objection.

Mrs. Stebbins, who wore a black, graduation-type gown she said later to call attention to her stand, was not deterred in her testimony. She said Collins was involved in a conflict of interest—"a strip miner sitting on a committee having strip mine legislation."

She also attempted to point out stories in Cleveland newspapers that indicated Collins had "made a deal with the chairman of this..." committee before Armstrong cut her off again.

China Meetings Continue; Length Hints At Progress

Gasoline Lead Curbs Pushed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Reporting the lead content in the air of 27 cities already has passed the danger point, the Environmental Protection Agency has proposed reducing the lead content of gasoline starting in 1974.

In addition, proposals outlined Tuesday by EPA head William D. Ruckelshaus would require refineries to provide at least one grade of unleaded gasoline at all large service stations by July 1, 1974.

The schedule for reducing the lead content of premium and regular gasoline would begin with a two-grams-per-gallon limit on July 1, 1974; then drop to 1.7 grams per gallon in 1975; 1.5 in 1976; and finally to 1.25 on Jan. 1, 1977.

Present lead levels are about 2.5 grams per gallon.

The proposals also would require that a leaded gas be colored and unleaded clear, as is now the practice, and that some auto gas tanks and pump dispensers be made to prevent the discharge of leaded gasoline into cars designed only for unleaded.

EPA would have authority to assess fines of up to $10,000 per day on refiners, distributors or stations violating the regulations.

Ruckelshaus told a news conference the schedule of lead reductions would cut the lead content in city air 60 to 65 percent by 1977.

The cost of regular gasoline would increase by about 1.65 cents a gallon by 1985, EPA estimated. At the same time, it said gasoline mileage would suffer, adding to the cost of driving.

Utility, ICC Rate Limits Are Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Price Commission has been told it should not rely on the regulatory agencies to keep down rates for electricity, gas, telephones, transportation and other utilities.

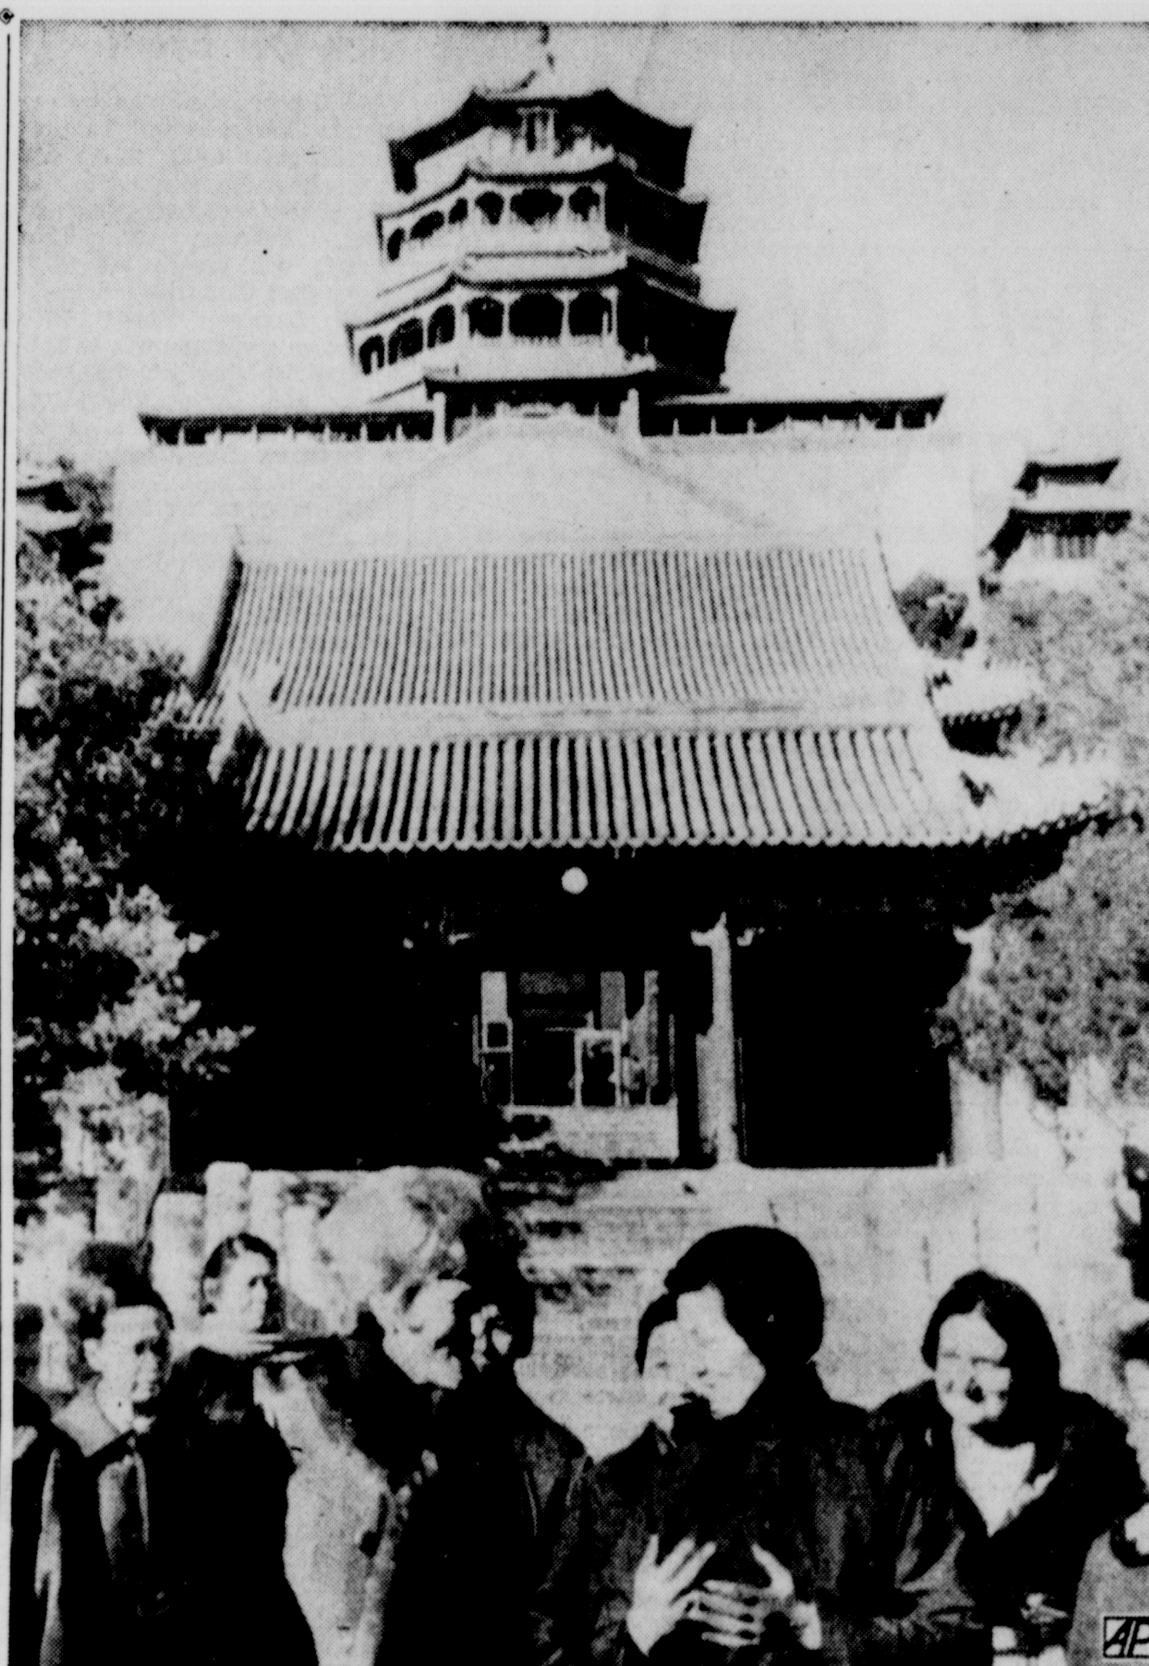

The commission itself must take a strong position to restrain the rates, Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okla., said Tuesday. "What the state and federal agencies need is some firm and detailed directives from the Price Commission and the knowledge that if they deviate from these directives their decisions will be overturned," Harris said.

Harris was heard as the commission began its first public hearings.

Sen. Robert A. Taft Jr., R-Ohio, took the position that, if the Interstate Commerce Commission is to continue to have a role in regulating rates for the railroads and trucks, it will need more, not less, supervision.

"I would hope," Taft said, "that the Price Commission would be firm in its review of the rates which our shippers and consumers are forced to pay."

Gov. Milton Shapp of Pennsylvania said the commission should tighten its rules on utility rates or show President Nixon's system of economic controls to be "just a public relations gimmick, with no substance..."

American Zoos Scramble For Custody Of Pandas

By ROBERT A. FASCE
Associated Press Writer

While U.S. and Chinese leaders maneuver through high level talks, American zoo directors have begun diplomatic maneuvering of their own aimed at getting the two rare giant pandas given to the United States by Premier Chou En-lai.

"There isn't a zoo in this country that wouldn't sell its soul for those pandas," says Jack Simmons, naturalist guide at Seattle's Woodland Park Zoo.

There are only four pandas in captivity outside of China—including a male in Moscow and a female in London. Efforts to mate the bear-like animals have failed. The other two pandas are in North Korea.

But Simmons and most other zoo officials contacted seem resigned to the idea that the two fuzzy, black and white gifts from the Chinese government will wind up at Washington's National Zoo.

"The National Zoo has been the repository for more than 80 years of such gifts from other nations to the United States," said Director Dr. Theodore Reed.

"I would assume we might be called upon once again in this case," he added.

But Reed stressed that there has been no official word from the White House on where the animals would be kept.

The animals were given to Nixon, who is visiting Peking, in return for two North American muskoxen Nixon is presenting to the Chinese.

A Chicago zoo is making its bid for the pandas through political channels. Dr. Lester E. Fisher of Lincoln Park Zoo has contacted an Illinois congressman and was reportedly trying to reach Sens. Adlai E. Stevenson III and Charles Percy for their help as well.

The zoo in San Diego, Calif., has been trying to get a pair of pandas since the early 1940s.

"There is no single animal which has more appeal to the public than the panda, especially to the kids," said Director of Public Relations Bill Seaton.

Cincinnati Zoo Director Ed Maruska said his zoo has had a request in directly to the Chinese since April. He said the bid was prompted by the suggestion of John Tannehill, a member of the U.S. table tennis team which played in China last year.

Maruska said he could see no way the matter of distributing the pandas could be handled fairly and added that he had offered the Chinese in trade "any type of North or South American animal."

Panel Approves U.S. Watchdog Over Amtrak

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional committee has voted to use federal financial watchdogs to protect the public's interest in the way the railroads provide intercity train service.

While approving a request by Amtrak—the National Railroad Passenger Corp.—for $170 million, the House Commerce Committee decided by a 14-to-10 vote Tuesday that federal auditors from the General Accounting office should be empowered to check into financial operations of any railroad entering a contract with the corporation to run city-linking passenger service.

Under the amendment, by Rep. John D. Dingell, D-Mich., the GAO would report to Congress on a railroad's financial operations and the condition of the carrier, showing specifically any program or transaction which the comptroller general considers as adversely affecting the railroad or lessening its ability to perform intercity passenger service.

Red Athletes Give Show For Nixons

PEKING (AP) — Another four-hour session today between President Nixon and Chou En-lai left the impression that China is ready to reach some sort of friendly accommodation. So far as outsiders knew, the question of Vietnam was still dangling.

The friendliness of the Chinese, coupled with the fact that Chou agreed to hold this third conference at Nixon's guest house instead of the Great Hall of the People, lent strength to a look for progress.

For the second night in a row, Chou personally escorted the Nixons to a Chinese spectacular—an exhibition of gymnastics, table tennis and badminton at the 18,000-seat Capital Gymnasium. The previous night it was a ballet in the Great Hall of the People.

While the Chinese intent behind all this cordiality is hard to understand, one object undoubtedly is the Russians.

It can hardly be lost on the leaders in the Kremlin that Nixon had a visit with Mao Tse-tung on the day of his arrival, and that the Peking press opened up Tuesday with smash play on the Nixon visit.

Chou offered today to allow U.S. correspondents to stay on for a look at China after Nixon departs next Monday.

Despite all this, no one expects that all aspects of cleavage between the two nations, built up over more than two decades, can vanish any time soon.

No word has come from behind the closed door of what Nixon and Chou have touched on in discussing the nature of (Continued on Page 2)

China Troops On Alert?

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Chinese Communist troops along the Soviet border are on war alert during President Nixon's visit to China, the Nationalist Chinese official Central News Agency asserted today.

The agency did not identify the source, and it was impossible to confirm the report here.

CNA also quoted an informed source in Hong Kong as saying Chinese navy patrols along the mainland coast have been stepped up.

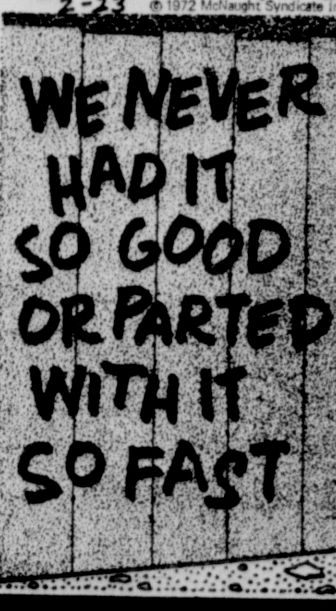

"Ground and air forces stationed along the north and northwestern borders have also been alerted," the source said.

"All this is to cope with the pressure from the Soviets now that Peiping (Peking)-Moscow relations have become steadily worse because of the Nixon visit," the agency reported.

RFK's Son Tells Of Jumbo Jet Hijack, Wait On Ground

ADEN, South Yemen (AP) — "It wasn't the worst moment of my life," said young Joe Kennedy after his release by Arab plane hijackers Tuesday. "I've been scared before, but it never lasted as long."

For 18 hours Kennedy, the eldest son of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, and 117 other male passengers were held aboard a commandeered German jumbo jet parked on a runway at sweltering Aden airport. Five Palestinian hijackers had rigged the plane with explosives before it landed.

Women and children and one elderly man were released hours before the male passengers, and those who didn't wait for their husbands were flown to Beirut to be picked up there today by a flight to Frankfurt.

Lufthansa, the West German airline, sent another 707 jet to Aden to pick up the rest of the passengers. It was due in Frankfurt tonight.

Health Board Adopts Car Use Rules, OKs System Changes

The Pickaway County Board of Health met in lengthy — 3½ hour — session Tuesday night to discuss problems.

The board adopted a regulation concerning the health department staff members' use of their two rented automobiles.

The regulation, which will be effective March 1, lists six board requirements for use of the cars.

The driver must have a valid operator's license.

KEYS to the cars will be placed in the Health Department offices each night.

The cars must be used for Health Department business only.

The cars must be parked at the Pickaway County Court House each night. Only exceptions will be made if a staff member must use the vehicle the following morning before coming to the office.

Doors on the cars will be painted to read "Pickaway County Health Department."

Part time employees must obtain board approval before being permitted to drive the cars.

The third and final reading of amendments to Regulation 7-0-1 governing household sewage disposal systems was conducted and passed. The amendments must appear published before they can be considered valid.

Fayette County Names Ambulance Coordinator

WASHINGTON C. H. — The Fayette County Board of Commissioners has appointed Chief Deputy Sheriff Robert McArthur as county coordinator for volunteer emergency ambulance service.

McArthur will coordinate all volunteer emergency ambulance service activities once they are established in Fayette County.

The county commissioners have made application for three emergency vehicles. One will be stationed in Jeffersonville at the Volunteer Fire Department. Commissioners have requested the city of Washington C. H. approve a plan in which two of the ambulances will be housed in the fire department at no expense to the city.

Present plans call for the ambulance service to be operated in a backup capacity to presently operating commercial ambulances.

future U.S.-Chinese relations. But all signs indicate that something tangible will come from the first visit to China of any U.S. president.

When President and Mrs. Nixon and Chou arrived at the Capital Gymnasium there were a good many empty seats in the huge hall. But it was the largest number of Chinese as a group to see Nixon since his arrival Monday. Many school children were present. There were no introductory speeches before the skilled Chinese gymnastic teams began their two-hour exhibition.

With Chou between them and a woman interpreter just behind, the Nixons joined the crowd in enthusiastic applause for each athletic routine.

Absent tonight were China's two first ladies—Chiang Ching, Mao Tse-tung's wife, and Teng Ying-chao, Chou's wife. Both had attended the ballet performance given for the Nixons Tuesday night.

Nixon's meeting this afternoon with Chou was the third of their daily private talks and lasted a bit longer than their meeting Tuesday. Nixon said before he arrived that he expected these sessions to last two hours, and their extended length was taken as an indication that the two leaders were making a searching examination of a wide range of issues.

Type Analysis

Murderers are vicious people. They may also be among the victims' best friends. This peculiar analogy came from a police department study in Philadelphia. The study showed that a majority of 435 murders in that city last year were perpetrated by relatives or acquaintances of the victims.

Relatives accounted for 16.3 per cent of the total, and acquaintances 53.3 per cent. Thus, 303 of the 435 murders were committed by persons who knew the victims or were related to them.

Of the victims, 43 were identified as juvenile gang members, and 7 are still under investigation. That leaves 52 dead as a result of felonies committed by strangers.

Philadelphia may or may not be typical, but the study does show there is a wide misconception about who commits murders and why. Most slayings do not involve personal profit. They are frequently the result of sudden emotion and often involve alcohol or quarrels over money.

The city's medical examiner, commenting on the study, said: "I do not believe there is a murderer type. There are merely human beings with intense emotional problems they cannot recognize and which are aggravated by some trigger factor, frequently while under the influence of alcohol."

The situation should not be understated any more than overstated. There probably are "murderer types" who receive a vicarious thrill from harming others. But learning what it is that creates a murderer is an important part of punishment and rehabilitation.

Review Advised

A clear lesson comes from a study by the General Accounting Office of a $21.5 million program over five years to alleviate poverty in rural Johnson County, Ky. The program, said the GAO, "had not made a significant impact on alleviating poverty and unemployment in Johnson County."

The point of the lesson is that attention is increasingly directed toward means of stemming the rural population flow to the cities. Federal grants and assistance of various kinds play major roles in most of the plans proposed.

Whether those plans involve job training, assistance to factories which locate in rural areas or something else, they ought to be formulated with the experience of Johnson County, Ky., in mind. Grants of $21.5 million over five years to one county should have made a positive impression, if money alone is the answer.

Standard Directions

Over the next four years road signs throughout the United States will be undergoing standardization, as they have been in Europe. Shapes, colors and pictures will tell a standard tale from New Jersey to California.

Familiarity in this case should breed better driving habits. At first the transition will be to signs carrying both words and symbols.

Later, the words in most cases will disappear.

Fair enough. The way some motorists manipulate their cars' directional signals indicates a better understanding of symbolic gesture than precise language anyway.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the potentially more meaningful experiments in industry today is the four-day week, whether it be for the usual 40 hours or for some lesser amount.

Hundreds of companies, large and small, have at least tested the idea and most employers and workers, judging from reports available, are happy with it.

Workers say it gives them more time with their families, an opportunity to take mini-vacations, a greater chance to develop leisure skills. Some even say it enables them to take on a second job.

Employers claim productivity sometimes increases because of a happier work force and because of more efficient utilization of facilities, such as a reduction in the number of costly startups.

Not all the experiments have turned out well, however.

One company laments that "engineers who tended before to work late and come in on Saturdays ... suddenly changed their pattern ... They found themselves reoriented and thinking in terms of leisure time instead of their work."

Riva Poor, a Cambridge, Mass., consultant who publishes Poor's Workweek Letter, has been one of the chief researchers and publicists of the movement. She insists that she provides both pro and con on the subject.

Nevertheless, judging from comments and actions, some observers appear to think that the notion may be overblown. At any rate, negative attitudes caused Mrs. Poor to ask recently: "What the heck is going on?"

Her ire was aroused, it seems, mainly by a high U.S. Labor Department official who cracked at a large business meeting that the only significant thing about the movement is that Mrs. Poor has become Mrs. Rich.

She also wonders why the Labor Department quotes her figures for the number of companies using the four-day week but omits growth rate figures, which leaves some readers with the impression that the movement "is a minor happening."

Moreover, a columnist whom she declines to identify except to say he "has had an adventuresome career with some major unions" has implied that progress of the four-day week is a function of Mrs. Poor's sexiness.

"It may be unfair to call him a detractor—maybe he's a secret admirer!" says Mrs. Poor, but she still continues to wonder if entrenched interests are trying to minimize the importance of an intriguing social experiment.

KSU Students' Feelings Mixed On Court Ruling

KENT, Ohio (AP)—A decision by the U.S. Supreme Court not to review a court gag on grand jury witnesses in the Kent State case drew conflicting reactions from two KSU students involved in the appeal of the rule.

The court, in effect, dismissed the case as moot, and, at the same time, set aside a circuit court judgement affirming the gag rule.

Bruce King, now a first-year student at Cleveland Marshall Law School, said Tuesday night that he was "happy to hear it."

However, Wayne Fisher, a graduate student in economics at Kent State, expressed disappointment. He said he thought the court "should have at least heard the case since there is at least a chance now that there could be something on the federal level—a federal hearing or a federal grand jury."

Stokes Says Fear Grips Large Cities

GRANVILLE, Ohio (AP)—"Almost every major city is deserted after five at night because of fear," former Cleveland Mayor Carl Stokes said Monday night.

"People used to stand in line outside liquor stores," Stokes said. "Now they stand in line to buy guns. There are 20 million guns in the households of frightened America."

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The thoughts of Chairman Mao Tse-tung have become the bible and life guide of the Chinese masses.
Lin Piao, Mao's heir apparent until his recent fall from grace and the chief popularizer of the chairman's thoughts, wrote an introduction to the 1968 edition of the famous Little Red Book.
He said the Chinese Communist party's "most fundamental task" was to "hold high the great red banner of Mao Tse-tung's thought, to arm the minds of the people throughout the country with it and to persist in using it to command every field of activity."
Here are some of Mao's thoughts:
Imperialism will not last long because it does evil things. (1958)
As for the imperialist countries, we should unite with their peoples and strive to coexist peacefully with those countries, do business with them and prevent any possible war, but under no circumstances should we harbor any unrealistic notions about them. (1957)
The enemy will not perish of himself. Neither the Chinese reactionaries nor the aggressive forces of U.S. imperialism in China will step down from the stage of history of their own accord. (1948)
Among the whites in the United States it is only the reactionary ruling circles who oppress the black people. They can in no way represent the workers, farmers, revolutionary intellectuals and other enlightened persons who comprise the overwhelming majority of the white people. (1963)
We Communists are like seeds and the people are like the soil. Wherever we go, we must unite with the people, take root and blossom among them (1945)
What we need is an enthusiastic but calm state of mind and intense but orderly work. (1936)
Thrift should be the guiding principle in our government expenditure. (1934)
Our principle is that the party commands the gun, and the gun must never be allowed to command the party. (1938)
Political power grows out of the barrel of the gun. (1938)

A revolution is not a dinner party, or writing an essay, or painting a picture, or doing embroidery; it cannot be so refined, so leisurely and gentle, so temperate, kind, courteous, restrained and magnanimous. A revolution is an insurrection, an act of violence by which one class overthrows another. (1927)
The Socialist system will eventually replace the capitalist system; this is an objective law independent of man's will. However much the reactionaries try to hold back the wheel of history, sooner or later revolution will take place and will inevitably triumph. (1957)
Men and women must receive equal pay for equal work in production. (1955)

Ohio Nursing Home Group Seeks Government Help

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ohio Nursing Home Association called upon the government today to play a stronger role in setting safety standards at facilities which care for the elderly.

EEOC Bill Approved By Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed a bill providing enforcement authority for the federal ban on job discrimination based on race, religion, sex or national origin.

In an unusual procedure made necessary by the die-hard resistance of two Southern opponents, the Senate actually passed the identical bill twice Tuesday by votes of 73 to 16 and 72 to 17.

The effect of the double vote, forced by Sens. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., and James B. Allen, D-Ala., may be to complicate further action on the legislation in the House, which passed a companion bill last September.

The Senate version of the measure is more to the liking of civil-rights forces, even though it is a compromise of the original bill brought up for debate on Jan. 19.

It provides new powers to enforce the prohibition against discriminatory job practices written into the 1964 Civil Rights Act and also extends coverage to additional millions of employees, including those of state and local governments.

Senate passage followed quickly after a 73-21 vote, 10 more than the required two-thirds majority, ended debate on the bill.

On the first passage vote, 38 Democrats and 35 Republicans voted for the bill and 10 Democrats and six Republicans voted against it.

The association said the per diem state reimbursement

In a statement prepared for a House Government Operations subcommittee, the association said nursing homes also would need increased state and federal aid to meet tougher fire protection requirements.

Ohio Gov. John Gilligan also was scheduled to present testimony today to the subcommittee, which is investigating a fire Jan. 26 that killed nine patients at the Green Nursing Home in the Cincinnati suburb of Lincoln Heights.

Tuesday Rep. William Keating, R-Ohio, proposed legislation to raise safety standards and prevent similar tragedies.

The association statement, to be presented by ONHA Executive Director Gary Shepherd and President Cecil Mitchell, said the government does not place sufficient emphasis on high standards of fire protection.

"Reimbursement rates to facilities participating in federal medical assistance programs are scarcely adequate for maintaining quality levels of patient care," the statement said.

Cleveland Seeks Trade With China

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Cleveland business leaders said Monday that the city's depressed heavy machine tool industry could get a much-needed boost if President Nixon's visit to China opens new trade avenues.

"Cleveland and Ohio have got to be there first," said Robert Bowen, chairman of the research council of the Greater Cleveland Growth Association.

The second vote was identical except that Sen. James L. Buckley, R-Con.-N.Y., switched and voted against passage.

Judy Agnew To Highlight Conference

The wife of the Vice-President of the United States, Mrs. Spiro T. Agnew, will be a special guest of honor at the 18th National Republican Women's Conference, meeting in Atlanta, Ga.; Phoenix, Ariz.; Chicago, Ill.; and Philadelphia, Pa.

The Conference directed by Republican National Committee Co-Chairman Anne Armstrong, will feature elected GOP officials and spokesmen for the Administration and the Nixon campaign team.

"We are especially delighted that Judy Agnew will join us at each of our Regional Conference sites," said Mrs. Armstrong. "We have planned a Conference that will motivate and train the thousands of Republican women expected to attend. Mrs. Agnew's presence will truly make the Conference one of the most exciting events ever to be held for Republican women in these regions."

Calling the 18th National Republican Women's Conference "The Party of the Open Door" — a reference to President Nixon's goal for the Republican Party to be "a Party with its doors open to all people of all races and of all parties, those who share our great ideals about the future of America and the future of the world" — Mrs. Armstrong noted that Mrs. John N. Mitchell was also scheduled to attend each regional Conference as an honored guest.

Dates and sites for the Republican Women's National are: March 23-25, Atlanta, Ga.; April 6-8, Phoenix, Ariz.; April 20-22, Chicago, Ill.; May 18-20, Philadelphia, Pa.

Salem Church Hosts Dinner

Salem United Methodist Church of Meade hosted a carry-in dinner and meeting of Salem, Bethel, Crouse and Kingston Church recently.

Dr. Calvin Rodeheffer, district superintendent, spoke on Hill View, a retirement center sponsored by the United Methodist Church. He told of the need of a retirement center in Southern Ohio.

The location for the retirement center will be back of the present district parsonage and across the street from the Scioto Memorial Hospital in Portsmouth. The hospital purchased 10 acres and the retirement center, 20 acres. Plans are to break ground in April 1972.

Mrs. Darl McAfee, representative from the Salem Church, was among many that visited Twin Towers, Cincinnati, which the center will be copied from. Rather than expand Twin Towers it was agreed to build a new center for the six county area in Southern Ohio.

At the close of Dr. Rodeheffer's talk a question and answer period was held.

California Anti-Nixon Drive Pushed

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — The drive of conservative Republicans to upset President Nixon in the June 6 California presidential primary is being led by a San Francisco public relations executive who has been a close ally of Ronald Reagan, Nixon's California campaign chief.

"I know it sounds like a real long shot," says Trevor Roberts, 40, who is serving as Rep. John N. Ashbrook's California campaign organizer.

"Our entire intent is to win the primary — as wild an idea as that may seem."

Ashbrook is the Ohio conservative who is challenging Nixon in a number of primaries, charging that the President abandoned conservatives and the campaign promises he made in 1968.

Roberts won't talk in terms of getting 5 or 10 or 15 per cent of the California GOP vote against a blue-ribbon Nixon campaign team headed by Reagan.

Nor does he talk of just trying to nudge Nixon back into a more conservative course.

"I'm shooting to win," he says. He has assembled a 96-member delegation to represent Ashbrook at the Republican National Convention in San Diego in August if Ashbrook wins the California primary.

Medics Push For Closer Study Of Viruses In Ailments

EDITOR'S NOTE—More and more the suspicion is spreading among scientists that the virus is implicated in nearly all of man's diseases, from the common cold to cancer. The following second of two articles on the virus and the link with disease tells what is being done to combat the deadly enemy.

By BRIAN SULLIVAN
AP Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Many scientists are beginning to look at a wide range of human disease from a new point of view: that the initial damage was done by a virus.

"This is a more popular way of looking at disease than just a few years ago," says Dr. Sol Spiegelman, a virus and breast cancer researcher at Columbia University.

Scientists have suspected a link between viruses and cancer, and now it's been suggested that even heart attacks and arteriosclerosis may be the result of early viral damage. Further, researchers are now looking for a possible viral role in diseases of the central nervous system, such as multiple sclerosis.

As a result of this explosion in virus research, and with virus diseases becoming more important as antibiotics cure bacterial illnesses, one leading cardiologist suggests that virology laboratories should be set up across the nation for doctors to use in their daily dealing with patients.

"In America today, we have good bacteriology," says Dr. George E. Burch of Tulane University. "We can isolate staph and strep, but there are very poor facilities for the study of viruses and the diseases due to viruses. We should establish, all over America, virology labs for doctors to make use of in their services to patients."

Burch, who has suggested the viral role in heart disease, also believes there should be more research in such areas as the relationship of bacterial and viral infections, suggesting that a strep infection might condition a person for a viral infection.

Further, he says, there should be a study of multiple infections, of several viruses acting at the same time and of their combined effect.

"I think there should be more work done on what the diseases are that viruses produce," Burch says. "Viruses are causing more trouble than we know about."

Virologist F. Kinsley Sanders of the Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research calls this new emphasis "viral ecology, looking at how viruses behave in nature."

One avenue of research is concerned with so-called "slow viruses," viruses that do not produce any effect until possibly years after the initial infection.

The common cold sore is caused by herpes and simplex virus, for example, and "once you are infected, you carry it for the rest of your life," Sanders says. "The herpes is lurking there all the time, then it comes out, with exposure to sunlight or a nasty note from the bank."

Considering this sort of thing, Sanders says, it is not surprising that viruses would have subtle long-term effects.

Animal research on slow viruses is relatively recent, the National Multiple Sclerosis Society notes. It was only 15 years ago that a slow virus was implicated in a disease called visna, a central nervous system disease of Icelandic sheep. Later another virus was found to cause scrapie, another sheep central nervous system disease.

Symptoms of either disease do not show up until about five years after the animals have been infected.

Among the researchers looking for answers to the questions surrounding slow viruses is Dr. John Griffith, associate professor of pediatrics, neurology, at the Duke University School of Medicine in Durham, N.C. Some of the questions:

—Why doesn't the infection produce immediate signs of disease?

—Why are the cells that are affected apparently present only in certain parts of the nervous system, rather than all over?

—Why aren't cells quickly destroyed by the virus?

—How does the virus survive all this time without killing the cells it feeds on?

Griffith offers some possible answers:

1. A slow virus might produce a mild but persistent infection that affects only a small number of cells. Somehow the virus and the cells enclosing it coexist without damage. Then, after a period, the virus is stimulated by some unknown factor to replicate, to reproduce itself, rapidly, and it moves out of its resting place to invade many more cells of the central nervous system, producing disease.

2. Or, the virus invades the body, replicates, and moves from cell to cell. But, for some unknown biological reason, the replication is so slow that it may take months or years before enough cells are affected and enough virus has been produced for the symptoms of the disease to appear.

3. Or, the virus attacks neurons, nerve cells, which cannot regenerate themselves and are destroyed gradually. The result is expressed only at the ends of nerve fibers where impulses are passed from one cell to another. This derangement of the ability to pass on impulses results in the signs and symptoms of the disease.

"Perhaps," says the Multiple Sclerosis Society, "a single virus may be responsible, in one form or another, for a whole spectrum of human ailments."

One of the newest advances in virology could explain how slow viruses work.

Dr. Theodor O. Diener, a plant pathologist for the U.S.

Department of Agriculture in Beltsville, Md., has discovered what he says is a "viroid" the smallest known agent that is infectious.

"This is the first agent of its kind," Diener said at the recent Gustav Stern Symposium on Perspectives in Virology in New York.

Diener, a Swiss-born scientist, says the viroid is the cause of a potato disease, spindle tuber disease. He has speculated that a viroid is a very primitive agent that has not developed the genetic sophistication to protect itself with a protein coat."

"Diener is convinced," the Agriculture Department said, "that many plant and animal diseases are probably caused by viroids. Methods developed by Diener now make it possible to isolate and identify such particles."

Conceivably, a viroid would provoke a very weak immune reaction in the body. This immune reaction is the body's natural defense mechanism against foreign invaders, accounting for the tendency of the body to reject a transplanted heart, for example.

The weak immune reaction could account for the ability of a slow virus or viroid to persist for long periods, for years, before acting. Therefore, viroids could be the agents responsible for human diseases believed to be caused by a virus, but for which scientists have been unable to isolate a virus.

One of these diseases, Diener said, could be multiple sclerosis, a neurological disease.

In the face of all this virus research and speculation, the possibility arises that no disease is free of viral implication. Presented with this speculation, Spiegelman, the Columbia virus expert, commented: "That's right."

Pentagon Papers Back In News

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court Tuesday agreed to decide whether a federal grand jury may question aides of Sen. Mike Gravel, D-Alaska, and "third parties" about arrangements for publication of the Pentagon Papers.

Gravel had challenged in an appeal the leeway granted the grand jury by the U.S. Circuit Court in Boston. The Justice Department, on the other hand, contended in a separate appeal that unjustified restrictions had been imposed.

The high court granted both sides a hearing without further comment.

Gravel, a critic of the Vietnam war, disclosed portions of the war study papers last June at a midnight meeting of a Senate subcommittee. He later arranged for publication of a four-volume edition by Beacon Press, the publishing arm of the Unitarian Universalist Association.

Ohioan Plans New College For Americans In Spain

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Suburban Grandview man plans to open a new college in Seville, Spain, in September, designed for bilingual students from the United States, Europe and the Middle East.

The school, to be named Columbus International College, will be the first American college in Spain. It will be housed in what used to be the town palace of a Spanish nobleman.

Dr. James Butler, the school's president and founder, said about 100 students will attend the two-year liberal arts college. He said 37 applicants have already been accepted.

"American people are pre-conditioned to a love of Spain," Butler said. "Students will be taking their own curriculum, but in a different country."

Butler said he first decided to found CIC five years ago. He said he was teaching in Libya on a program sponsored by the University of Maryland when the outbreak of the Israeli-Egyptian war forced him to evacuate along with other foreign nationals to Spain.

"I began wondering why there was no American College in Spain," he said. "I decided I'd start one in Seville."

A year ago he began soliciting funds, a quest which so far has brought in $35,000, plus 11,000 library books and 22 teachers for the college's faculty. Butler says he still needs another $30,000.

The historic palace has been donated by the city of Seville. Butler says he has leased a dormitory formerly used by the University of Seville.

The school will carry courses in English, world history, social studies, humanities, mathematics and several other subjects. Tuition, room and board will be $2,100 annually.

Butler said he is working on arrangements to get CIC accredited and allow students to transfer their credits to American schools. He said the accrediting would take another five years, but he is trying to work out transfer of credits in time to help his first batch of students.

Students Protest Firing Of Trio At South Point

SOUTH POINT, Ohio (AP) — Students staged a strike at the South Point High School Tuesday to support three school officials fired Monday night by the board of education.

The Lawrence County high school, with 800 students on a split-schedule, had fewer than 50 students of 350 attending morning classes. Most called in sick, school officials said.

Students say they will strike three days, one day each for the fired educators. Teachers were on duty.

The board voted 3-2 to adopt a resolution terminating the contracts of District Supt. Joseph Dials, high school principal Robert Debo and Burlington elementary principal Don Brammer.

Justices Refuse Amtrak Case Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court Tuesday refused to hear a case challenging the constitutionality of Amtrak, the National Railroad Passenger Corp., that is less than one year old.

The court's unanimous decision killed what would have been the first high court test of the government's right to semi-nationalize the railroads.

Views On TV - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "Man of the Serengeti," latest in CBS's National Geographic series, was an hour-long lecture Tuesday night on the ecological chain, the survival of the fittest and another indictment of man the destroyer.

The violent program showed animals hunting and eating their prey—a leopard dragging a wildebeest up a tree; lions fighting over their still-alive catch; a wart hog set upon by a pack of wild dogs. All this was to demonstrate the chain of life and survival.

In addition, there was a description of the life of the Masai, a milk-drinking tribe of nomad herdsmen who are not hunters, according to the principal narrator, a Masai who is a ranger in the African animal preserve.

The narration seemed to be making one point while the film and its sound track were making another, and more savage, one.

"Kung Fu," ABC's "Movie of the Week," was one of the most interesting and off-beat programs to come along recently. Despite an unfortunate title that suggested Fu Manchu and sinister Orientals of old-fashioned melodrama, this was the story of a Chinese priest, highly trained in survival techniques, fleeing to the American West of the 1880s. He was wanted in China for killing a member of the imperial family.

The story centered an enslaved coolie gang putting through a railroad. Caine, the monk on the run, encountered assorted white bad guys, championed and liberated the Chinese laborers and went on his way. David Carradine as the priest was laconic and grave.

The 90 minutes appeared to be a pilot for a series and the idea of an Oriental man-on-the-run in the Old West is novel and provocative, although they may find scripts with a little love interest hard to come by.

NBC's "Today" show matches in time and mood the visual news coming out of Peking during the presidential visit. On Tuesday morning, the news was a ballet with a revolutionary theme which President Nixon, his party and the wife of Mao Tse-tung were attending. That 13-hour time difference between the Far East and the East Coast of the United States doesn't help the evening news programs one bit.

The TV news corps is getting mostly feature material in Peking. Mrs. Nixon, visiting a hotel kitchen, received extraordinary attention looking at pastries.

Supreme Court Nixes KSU Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court declined Tuesday to review an order that prohibited public statements by some 300 witnesses who testified before a grand jury on the May 1970 disorders at Kent State University.

The order was imposed by two Ohio judges. They also prohibited demonstrations and picketing "pertaining in any way" to the grand jury proceedings.

In a terse ruling on an appeal filed by the American Civil Liberties Union, the high court refused to reach a decision on the validity of the order on the grounds the dispute is now legally dead. The unanimous action set aside a judgment by the U.S. Circuit Court in Cincinnati that had upheld the order and directed that the suit be dismissed as "moot."

Controlling Board OKs Fund Outlays

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state Controlling Board released $42.1 million to the Department of Education Tuesday for school foundation subsidy payments for February.

The money was sought because revenue from the new state income tax is not yet enough to cover the payment.

The board, watchdog of state spending, also released $3.2 million for construction of sewage treatment facilities in three counties, in the following amounts:

—$2.2 million for Chagrin Falls, Cuyahoga County.

—$168,772 for East Canton, Stark County.

—$853,382 for American Sewer District Two in Allen County.

The board also released $4 million for debt service payments on bonds. The release was requested by Sinking Fund commissioners.

Also approved was $610,704 for work on the athletic and recreation fields at the Stark County branch of Kent State University.

The Stark County Technical Institute, located on the same site, got $690,102 as a portion of its $3 million appropriation in the biennial budget.

Gilligan Backs Mills Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio Gov. John Gilligan said today Rep. Wilbur Mills' revenue-sharing plan is one of "the most viable current attempts to solve our crucial fiscal problems."

"This first step is needed immediately. In fact it is long overdue," Gilligan said in a statement prepared for presentation at the National Governors' Conference.

Gilligan called for prompt passage of the measure. "If it is politically viable in this congressional session, we should all seek to aid in its passage," he declared.

The Ohio governor said he prefers a tax credit for providing a new form of federal assistance to state and local governments, but indicated a belief this has little chance of passage in Congress this year.

While the Mills bill omits some of the "outstanding features" of other alternatives, Gilligan said, "at least this bill would be one tool in the whole package of fiscal improvements needed."

He noted that under the Mills plan financial aid would be free of strings and each state and locality would be able to use the funds according to its own priorities.

Couple's Club Sets Supper And Dance

Couple's Club of American Legion Post 134 will have a carry-in supper and dance Saturday evening at the Post Home, Route 23 South.

Stoney's Band will play for dancing beginning 9 p.m. following the 7:30 p.m. supper.

White Couple Cited For Brotherhood

EAST ALTON, Ill. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Sparlin, a white couple whose adoption of a black baby two years ago raised eyebrows in this mostly white community, have received a special brotherhood award from the African Methodist Episcopal Church.

The Campbell Chapel A.M.E. church in East Alton presented the award Sunday night at the mostly black congregation's annual brotherhood banquet.

Men Dominate Women With Protectiveness

GAMBIER, Ohio (AP) — Men pretend to be protecting women while they're really dominating them, the founder of the Men's Liberation Group told a Kenyon College audience Monday night.

"The concept of protectiveness is often used to disarm the person being protected," Warren Farrell said during a speech here. "Once that person is disarmed, that person is left helpless to obtain his or her independence."

Five Area High School Seniors Are 'Homemakers Of Tomorrow'

Five area high school senior girls are among those being considered for state honors in an annual search for the nation's outstanding homemaker of the future.

All Pickaway County high schools and Amanda-Clearcreek High participated in the Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow. This year, Laurelville did not make a homemaker selection.

KAREN FOSTER

The girls are: Karen S. Foster, Circleville High, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Huskey, 322 Meadow Lane; Vicki Stoer, Westfall High, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stoer, Mt. Sterling; Deborah Anne Irwin, Teays Valley High, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Irwin, Long St., Ashville; Theresa Quinzel, Logan Elm High, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Quinzel, Route 1; Vicki McHale, Amanda-Clearcreek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin McHale, Route 1, Amanda.

VICKI STOER

On Dec. 7, 1971, more than 650,000 senior girls in over 14,500 of the nation's high schools took a homemaking knowledge and attitudes examination. Winners were selected from each high school to advance to the national competition.

THE state Homemaker of Tomorrow, will be awarded a $1,500 college scholarship. A complete set of Encyclopaedia Britannica will also be presented to her school. The second ranking girl in the state will receive a $500 educational grant.

DEBBIE IRWIN

First place winners from the various states and District of Columbia, along with their advisers, will join in April for an expense-paid educational tour of Colonial Williamsburg, Va. and Washington D.C. Climax of the tour will be the announcement of the 1972 Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow. Her scholarship will be increased to

THERESA QUINCEL

An added feature of the national judging is the personal observation and interview carried out during the tour.

In addition to the grants awarded state and national winners, a $1,000 National Nutrition Scholarship has been added to the Betty Crocker Search this year. To earn this award, a young woman must be planning a college major in nutrition or a related field, rank among the highest in her state in the overall Search test and achieve the top score, from those meeting the first two criteria, on the examination's nutrition questions.

Circleville JHS 'Pops' Concert Scheduled Friday

Science Research Associates of Chicago handles all judging and selection of winners in the Betty Crocker Search.

Miss Foster is an active member of the CHS band and choir and participates in the Methodist Youth Fellowship and Explorer Scouts program. She is one of 10 children in her family.

OHIO Northern University is Miss Foster's choice of colleges and she intends to study for a degree in secondary education.

VICKI McHALE

School activities of Miss Stoer include vice presidency of the National Honor Society, membership in GAA, the school newspaper staff, Drama Club, French Club, and concert, marching and stage bands.

In her community, she is an active member of the Mt. Sterling United Methodist Church. She belongs to Chancel Choir, United Methodist Youth Fellowship and is assistant organist for her church.

Miss Irwin lists her hobbies as reading, cooking and sewing. Home economics has always been her favorite subject, so much that she has plans to enroll in a home economics course in college. She has been accepted as a student at Bowling Green University.

At Teays Valley, Miss Irwin is president of ETA, editor of the Blue and Gold, a member of The Viking newspaper staff, yearbook staff, marching and concert bands, Spanish Club, Drama Club, Science Club and ETA. Last summer, she attended the National FHA Convention in Kansas City. She is also a member of the Pickaway County Junior Fair Board.

A part-time job at Lindsey's Bakery occupies much of Miss Quinzel's after-school time. She is also a member of the Church of the Nazarene in Circleville.

SCHOOL activities for Miss McHale include membership in Future Secretaries Assn., a junior homcoming attendant in 1970, sophomore class officer, Honor Society, Carnival queen, cheerleader, GAA.

She will be recognized at the April 29 banquet of the Amanda-Clearcreek FHA for her homemaker achievement.

All girls winning local contests have been presented with specially designed award charms from General Mills.

Clevelanders Ask More Policing

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — East side Clevelanders, including the city council majority leader, are demanding an intensified effort to end attacks on teen-age girls in a portion of the city's Glenview area.

Several girls have been attacked in the area on their way home from school the past six weeks. Elaine Rash, 11, was raped and beaten to death last week in an abandoned apartment building on East 14th Street.

Stewart Forbes, council majority leader, said Tuesday that his 12-year-old daughter was accosted on her way home from a grocery store, struggled with a man and ran home. The incident occurred about two miles from where Miss Rash's body was found.

Auto Dealer 's Charged With Fraud

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (AP) — Sandusky Police Chief Arnold Ziemke was among witnesses expected to testify today in an investigation by the Ottawa County grand jury of the business practices of Nelson Berkowitz, a Port Clinton automobile dealer.

Ziemke, a brother-in-law of Berkowitz and one of his customers, was one of 34 witnesses called by County Prosecutor Lowell Peterson.

The witnesses include persons who bought cars from Berk Ford Sales, Inc., of which Berkowitz is president.

Officials of the National Bank of Oak Harbor and the National Bank of Port Clinton were among those who testified Tuesday. Both banks have brought charges alleging that Berkowitz illegally secured loans on cars.

Disgruntled purchasers have filed charges of obtaining property by false pretenses and sale of a motor vehicle without title against Berkowitz in Port Clinton Municipal Court. Berkowitz is free pending hearings on those charges.

Common Pleas Court Judge Tom Stahl said Tuesday he had set a hearing for Feb. 29 on a motion filed by the Port Clinton bank asking that Berkowitz's business be placed in receivership.

Twenty-three persons have complained that they bought cars from Berkowitz, until recently a deputy registrar of motor vehicles, and either got no title or wound up with a car for which somebody else also had a title.

A spokesman in the prosecutor's office said most of about a dozen cars financed for the dealer by the Oak Harbor bank have been repossessed.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Charge Dropped, But He Still Pays

DEAR ABBY: Five years ago, when he was a senior in high school, my brother Billy was arrested in a police raid on a house where a group of kids were smoking marijuana and using LSD. Billy wasn't using any, but the police took everybody in and booked them. Only two of the kids were convicted, and charges were dropped against the rest, including my brother.

Billy graduated from college last June with very good grades, but he can't get a job because all the forms he has had to fill out specifically ask if he's ever been arrested, and when he has to put down "Yes," and why, he was passed over. Once he didn't put down yes, was hired, and a month later they let him go because they found out he had been arrested that one time.

Billy is so disgusted he doesn't know what to do. He went to a lawyer to see if that one arrest could be wiped off his record, and the lawyer told him that in this state they couldn't do it. He said that all he could do was write the legislators to try to get the law changed.

Isn't it cruel for something like this to happen to a nice kid? The law presumes you to be innocent until found guilty, but everyone thinks if someone is arrested he's a poor risk for employment, and since there are about 10 people for every job these days, they'll hire the one who hasn't been in any kind of trouble. Don't you think this is unfair? And have you any advice for Billy?

BILLY'S SISTER
DEAR SISTER: If Billy was only "booked" and not charged after the drug raid, was not a user or in possession of drugs, it is certainly unfair to use such a "record" against him.

But fair or unfair, when illegal drugs appear on the scene, I would advise any individual to promptly leave the scene.

DEAR ABBY: My heart beats a little faster when I read that letter in your column from the divorced woman who was still in love with a wonderful Marine she hadn't seen since 1944.

You told her to try to locate him, and if he was also single and felt the same way about her, maybe they could pick up where they left off. I hope she finds him.

And I hope he's single and I hope they get together again.

Would you believe I found my wonderful gal again after a silence of 50 years? Sign me, LUCKY IN ELGIN, ILL.

DEAR LUCKY: Thanks for your encouraging testimony. It's only "too late" for those who think it is.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please help settle an argument between my husband and me? We were invited to dinner at the home of some new friends, and after dinner it was suggested that we play cards, which we did.

After the game started our hostess brought a book to the table and proceeded to read while playing cards. Most of the time she was so absorbed in the book she nearly forgot about the card game.

After we got home, my husband said she was the rudest woman he had ever met, and that she might just as well have told us to go home the way she read that book in our faces all evening. He also said if they ever invited us back he will refuse to go.

Abby, I agree, she wasn't polite, but I can understand how she could have started a book and become so fascinated with she could hardly wait to get back to it, so I really don't hold it against her.

Do you agree with my husband that we shouldn't go back there again? I really like this woman.

OUTPLAYED IN DETROIT
DEAR OUTPLAYED: If you "like" her, see her on your own time. I agree with your husband.

Frigid Air Hammers Northeast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Frigid arctic air swept into the Northeast today, bringing subzero cold to northern New England and upstate New York.

Cold-wave warnings were in effect from Massachusetts to New Jersey and for areas of West Virginia. The cold air extended southward into the mid Atlantic Coast states and across the Midwest to the Great Plains.

Rain, snow and freezing rain broke out over much of the Midwest. Travel warnings were issued for Iowa and from northern Illinois into Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Snow fell on Minnesota, the Dakotas, most of Montana and parts of Oregon.

Rain extended from the central Gulf Coast to the southern Midwest, and occasional showers were reported over the northern and central Pacific Coast.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 26 below zero at Massena, N.Y., to 67 at Fort Lauderdale and Key West, Fla., and Brownsville, Tex.

Mrs. Nixon Views Acupuncture, Agriculture

PEKING (AP) — Bare-headed as usual, Pat Nixon braved a North China snowstorm today to visit an agricultural commune where she mingled with schoolchildren, observed winter time cultivation of vegetables and saw a 68-year-old woman getting an acupuncture treatment.

The First Lady walked through intermittently heavy snow that glistened in her hair, moving down alleys and across furrowed fields at the 6,000-acre

Evergreen People's Commune west of Peking.

Mrs. Nixon was captivated by the schoolchildren she saw, marveled at the growing of out-of-season vegetables under glass and even tried futilely to make friends with a rather dirty hog.

She seemed most surprised, however, to observe in the commune clinic the ancient Chinese medical treatment based on the insertion of long needles into the flesh.

The two young women who gave the treatment told Mrs. Nixon that they attend to about a dozen patients a day. They showed her a gray-haired woman lying on her side on a cot with needles protruding from her right arm and leg.

The woman said those limbs had been so numb before she began a week-long series of acupuncture treatments that she could hardly walk around her small home. Now she can cook, she reported.

"We wish you well," Mrs. Nixon told her.

The pig Mrs. Nixon tried to entice within petting distance was corralled outside a tiny, spotlessly clean cottage.

Warned by a reporter that the pig might bite, Mrs. Nixon said she lived on a farm as a girl and "I once raised a prize-winner—second prize."

But the pig ignored her entreaties, and finally she leaned into the sty to throw him a chunk of cabbage.

Almost everything Mrs. Nixon saw at the commune—except acupuncture—reminded her of something back home. Visiting two classrooms—second-grade multiplication and a music class with a simple but melodic organ—recalled her days as a schoolteacher.

Following Asian custom, Mrs. Nixon clasped her hands as children rose and applauded her when she entered the classrooms.

To the 8-year-olds learning multiplication—several of them gave wrong answers while she was there—Mrs. Nixon said she brought greetings from all the children of America.

The music pupils serenaded her with a song about "Our Great Leader Chairman Mao" and a number called "I'm a Little Member of the Commune."

"They're very adorable," said Mrs. Nixon as she kissed several children on the cheek and patted one on the head.

She was taken into a simply furnished home, with kitchen, dining room, living room and bedroom all in one.

The First Lady sat at the kitchen table, chatted with the housewife and again recalling her farm days, remarked, "I enjoyed it very much."

Demo Candidates Avoid 2 Districts

FLUSHING, Ohio (AP) — Major Democratic presidential candidates will be waging a battle through Ohio for primary ballots this year, but they will virtually ignore two congressional districts where local leaders have posted keep-out signs.

One district is the 18th Congressional District, stronghold of veteran U.S. Rep. Wayne Hays, D-Flushing. The other is in Cleveland, where the black-oriented 21st Congressional District Caucus has entered a slate pledged to Carl Stokes for President.

In the 18th, only Sen. George McGovern has filed a slate opposing Hays, who is a favorite son candidate.

How The Weather Looks

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY

Lows tonight will be in the upper 20s and low 30s. Mostly cloudy Thursday with a chance of snow flurries through the morning. Highs will be in the mid 30s.

Cooper Declares Quarterly Dividend

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — Cooper Tire and Rubber Co. directors Tuesday declared a 3 1/4 cent per share quarterly dividend on the 5 per cent cumulative convertible preferred stock payable March 31 to stockholders of record March 10.

But the directors omitted a dividend on common stock at the request of the government Committee on Interest and Dividends, which said the dividend would not be consistent with economic policies of Phase II.

Ohio Hygiene, Correction Agency May Be Split Apart

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Chairman Oakley Collins says his Education and Health Committee will recommend Senate passage of legislation to split the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction into two state agencies.

The Ironton Republican said the committee will approve the bill at its next meeting Feb. 29, the same day the General Assembly resumes regular legislative sessions.

The House already has approved the administration measure, which would replace the current department with a Department of Mental Health and Retardation and a Department of Corrections, each with its own cabinet-level director.

Some functions, such as purchase of food and drugs, would remain centralized to avoid duplication of efforts.

The committee was told Tuesday by state Finance Director Harold Hovey that the division would permit improved planning and administration of programs in both the mental health and corrections fields at minimal additional costs.

Over the remainder of the biennium ending June 30, 1973, he said, operation of the two agencies would require an additional $208,000.

In other legislative business Tuesday, the Senate Environmental Affairs subcommittee continued hearings on a bill to establish a cabinet level environmental protection agency.

The Senate Finance Committee began consideration of an administration measure to appropriate $425.6 million for capital improvements across the state during the biennium.

The Democratic-sponsored bill calls for broad new construction and rehabilitation programs.

Earlier, the legislature passed a Republican-backed, $240 million capital improvements bill reappropriating money that lapsed at the end of the last biennium.

Heart Most Common Reason For Early Social Security

Heart disease is the most common affliction among people getting social security disability payments according to Harry B. Bieber, social security district manager in Chillicothe.

Social security pays monthly checks to over 1 1/2 million people under 65 who are severely disabled and cannot work for a year or more. "More than 23 per cent of them have severe heart diseases according to a recent study," he said. The study, conducted by the Social Security Administration, shows that 17.6 per cent of the disabled people getting benefits have arteriosclerotic and coronary heart diseases; 4.5 per cent have hypertensive heart diseases; 1.2 per cent have heart valve diseases.

Emphysema, a lung disease, is the second most common disabling condition the study showed. Emphysema afflicts 6.3 per cent of the beneficiaries. "Of course," Mr. Bieber said, "millions of people can and do work with heart disease, emphysema and other afflictions. The basis for receiving social security disability payments is not the presence of the disease but whether the disease is so advanced or acute that it prevents a person from working."

Other diseases reported as the basic cause of disability among the social security beneficiaries include:

Schizophrenic disorders, 5.8 per cent; pulmonary tuberculosis, 3.9 per cent; osteoarthritis, 3.2 per cent; rheumatoid arthritis, 2.7 per cent; apoplexy, 2.7 per cent; cerebral blood clots, 2.6 per cent; diabetes, 2.5 per cent; and displacement of intervertebral disc ("slipped disc") 1.3 per cent.

In selected cases, social security helps pay for vocational rehabilitation of disabled workers.

Monthly social security checks also go to 1 1/4 million dependents of disabled workers. Social security payments to a disabled worker with a wife and one or more dependent children average $269 a month.

The Chillicothe Social Security Office is located at 606 Central Center, telephone 775-4950. The hours are from 8:45 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. Monday through Friday, holidays excepted.

Kiwanis Hears DE Teachers

Mary Alice Greenwood and William Rosengarten, Distributive Education teachers at Circleville High School, were guest speakers of the Circleville Kiwanis Club in their regular meeting Monday at the Mecca Restaurant.

They told club members DECA's history and said they believed the program was successful because "there is something in it for everyone."

Linda Jacobs, a DECA student, gave a speech such as she will use during the upcoming District DECA contest.

Debbie Dumm, another DECA student, gave a sample of two commercials she will present at the District contest.

Meany Rips Strike Law

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany, who earlier had muted his criticism of President Nixon's China trip, has issued a sharp verbal blast at Nixon's signing of an antistrike bill in Peking.

"The symbolism of the President stripping American workers of their rights as free men while he was enjoying the hospitality of the overseers of a slave state will not be lost on Americans who still believe in the basic dignity and freedom of all humans," Meany said in a statement.

Actually, the special law to order an end to the 134-day West Coast dock strike had no effect because the 13,000 striking longshoremen had already voted to accept a new two-year contract and voluntarily returned to work.

Secretary of Labor J. D. Hodgson announced in Washington Monday that Nixon had signed the bill in Communist China and called it a "symbolic gesture."

"This was a gratuitous insult to all American workers," Meany said.

Shanghai is China's main seaport and one of the largest in the world.

Tigers Honored At SCO Sports Banquet

WRESTLERS — Circleville dominated the South Central Ohio League wrestling squad with seven titles and team

Dave Webb. The grapplers received their awards at the SCOL sports banquet Tuesday night at Miami Trace High School.

Circleville placed two cagers on the all-league first team and gained seven wrestling titles at the South Central Ohio League winter sports banquet Tuesday night at Miami Trace High School.

Terry Morrison was named captain of the star studded cage squad and Dave Truex gained a first team berth on the six man team.

Rounding out the first team squad are Kemmy Goodson of Miami Trace and Mike Hull, Dave Trefz and Chuck Free of Greenfield's league champions.

Truex was the only junior to grab a spot on the select team.

CIRCLEVILLE'S Don Valentine was named to the second team along with Steve Shaw of Washington C. H., Wilmington's Bob Raizk, Pete Jones of Miami Trace and Bruce Murphy and Jeff Hodson of the Hillsboro Indians.

Dan Graham of Circleville received honorable mention on the cage team.

The Roundtowners dominated the wrestling awards with seven titles out of a possible 13 and the league championship.

Tiger titles went to Pete McDaniels (112-pound), Jeff Harr (126-pound), Dave Webb (132-pound), Jim Payne (115-pound), Gary Mogan (167-pound), Mark Davey (185-pound) and Tom Frericks (115).

Miami Trace gained three wrestling titles, Ed Smith (105-pound), Keith Earley (138-pound) and Gardner Cobb (175-pound); Wilmington nabbed two titles, Robert Cruz (98-pound) and Joe Arvai (155-pound) while Ray Henry took the 119-pound crown for Hillsboro.

Other awards went to the 1971 spring sports champions with Circleville receiving the track title, Miami Trace the baseball crown and Washington C. H. the golf title.

THE Rev. Richard Connelly, Chaplain of the Cincinnati Bengals, was the guest speaker for the evening.

Entertainment was provided by the Miami Trace Stage Band under the direction of Paul Febo.

The presentation of trophies and awards was handled by Paul Sarchet and Edwin Nestor with the Rev. Frank A. White, New Holland Methodist Church, giving the invocation and benediction.

Fordham University swimming captains are Edwin Kelley of Arlington, Va., and Brian Reilly of New Haven, Conn.

(right) were selected to the South Central Ohio All-League basketball team. Morrison was named captain of the first team while Truex gained a berth on the first squad and Valentine a spot on the second team.

Lolich And Blue Hold Out From Signing AL Contracts

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The winningest pitchers in the American League last season?

Mickey Lolich and Vida Blue. Two of the top absentees in American League training camps this season?

Mickey Lolich and Vida Blue. Detroit General Manager Jim Campbell says he believes both the length of the contract and the amount of money in it are delaying the signing of Lolich, the Tigers' 25-game winner.

But money alone apparently is what is keeping Blue, the league's Most Valuable Player, and Cy Young Award winner, from signing an Oakland pact.

Lolich reportedly wants a three-year contract, while the Tigers' policy calls for single-year pacts. One source says both sides are close to $80,000 in the current talks.

But Blue and his boss, A's owner Charles O. Finley, are apparently nowhere near as close in their haggling.

The fireballing left-hander made less than $15,000 last year when he won 24 games. That prompted President Nixon to suggest that Blue was the most underpaid athlete in the nation. Blue must have been listening. He started out asking for $115,000 for 1972. Finley started out by offering $50,000.

Since the talks began, Finley has upped his offer by $5,000 and Blue has dropped his demand below $100,000.

There are other absentees as well. Juan Marichal, the ace of the San Francisco staff, has yet to sign—and has yet to contact Giants' owner Horace Stoneham.

Sonny Siebert, Boston's biggest winner of 1971 with a 16-10 record, is another kind of problem.

He signed his 1972 contract last February—it was a two-year pact—but now is trying to renegotiate his salary for the upcoming season and has missed four days of workouts at the Red Sox camp.

All was not gloom for the major league club owners on Tuesday, though. A number of players did join the fold.

One of the top names was Rod Carew, the Minnesota Twins' five-time All-Star, who signed for what was estimated at $45,000-$50,000. The second baseman, whose .300 batting average was fifth best in the American League last year, made a reported $40,000 in 1971.

Chicago Bulls Stomp 76ers; Win 119-88

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Dick Motta, coach of the National Basketball Association's Chicago Bulls, takes great pleasure in the kind of shellacking his team handed Philadelphia Tuesday night when they wrecked the 76ers 119-88.

He figures everytime the Bulls beat the 76ers, it makes them a little more even for some of the things Philadelphia used to do to his club.

Toronto And Montreal Lose Hockey Clashes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
If there was one thing to be learned by Tuesday's National Hockey League action, it was for teams not to count their two points for a victory before the final buzzer.

Toronto and Montreal raced to quick, fat leads but both wound up on the short end with Detroit coming from four goals down to defeat the Maple Leafs 5-4 and New York rallying from three back to take the Canadiens 7-3.

"I'd rather beat Philadelphia than any other team in the league," said Motta. "I remember when they used to beat us by 35 and 40 points and Jack Ramsay (Philadelphia's coach) used to get great delight from it."

Elsewhere in the NBA Tuesday, Boston downed Phoenix 114-103, New York took Portland 122-105, Buffalo edged Baltimore 99-93, Detroit squeezed by Los Angeles 135-134 in overtime and Golden State topped Seattle 120-104.

The Bulls raced to a 20-7 lead and coasted past Philadelphia with Bob Love tossing in 34 points to lead the attack. Motta stayed with his regulars and the lead bulged to 38 points before he went to his reserves.

"I didn't take my regulars out because I want to get the team used to working hard and not sloughing off with a comfortable lead," Motta said.

Bob Kauffman scored the last two of his 26 points by stealing in in-bounds pass and driving in for Buffalo's winning basket against Baltimore.

The Braves trailed 93-85 with about four minutes left, then scored four straight baskets to tie it. Jack Marlin's basket and a foul shot by Archie Clark restored a three-point Baltimore edge with 27 seconds to play but Kauffman hit on a rebound and then scored the winner for Buffalo.

Walt Frazier's 29 points led the Knicks past Portland with a 12-0 New York string in the final period clinching the victory. It was the seventh victory in the last eight starts for New York.

R. B. Shafkopf Wins Feature At Latonia

FLORENCE, Ky. (AP) — R. B. Shafkopf overcame a six-length lead by Season Pass and won the featured $3,200 eighth race at Latonia Tuesday night by a length, covering the 5 1/2 furlongs in 1:09 4/5.

The winner paid $10.80, $3.40 and $2.80, Season Pass $2.60 and $2.40 to place and Very Reasonable, third, $3.40.

Joe Healey, New York University track coach since 1957, was elected track coach of 1971 by the United States Track Coaches Association.

Ohio Prep Basketball Teams Launch Tournament Play

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A field of 805 Ohio high school basketball teams launches tournament play this week, a heart-break highway that makes only three schools happy.

The trio, of course, will be the ones crowned the 1972 Ohio scholastic champions Saturday, March 25, in Ohio State's St. John Arena.

Putting their 1971 championships up for grabs are Columbus Walnut Ridge in Class AAA, Canton Lehman in Class AA and Fort Recovery in Class A.

Canton Lehman, ranked fifth in The Associated Press poll with a 16-2 record, seems to have the best chance of earning another big title trophy.

Championship Tilt Set In Mid-State Junior Tourney

Amanda Clearcreek and Fairfield Union came up with big wins Tuesday to gain the finals of the Mid-State Junior High Tournament at Stoutsville.

The Aces ripped Liberty Union, 46-30, to move into the finals. Doug Starnor hooped 13 points for the Aces while Glasspoole had 13 for Fairfield Union.

Fairfield Union downed Pickerington, 42-34, to grab a berth in the championship battle. Mick Cummins tallied 16 points for the winners while Tom Kuhn netted 13 in the losing effort.

The title tilt will take place 5:30 p.m. Thursday at Stoutsville with Liberty Union and Pickerington meeting in the consolation game at 4:15 p.m.

Sports Banquet Set At Junior High

Circleville's Junior High and Freshmen basketball and wrestling teams will be honored at a banquet 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Junior High School.

The public is invited to the carry-in dinner and must provide their own table service.

phly. Celina, the AP's Class AAA king, has some tradition to uphold.

The last four regular season poll champions, Columbus East in 1968 and 1969, Dayton Chamade in 1970 and Walnut Ridge last spring, have gone on to the state tournament crowns.

The first series of eliminations, the sectional tournaments, will be played this week and next, although some areas start right out with district play.

Most district tournaments, however, are scheduled the week of March 6. The surviving 16 teams in each class then move into regional tournament action the week of March 13.

Tickets for the state tournament again are scarce. Ohio commissioner Harold Meyer, in fact, predicts a sellout of 31,489 for all sessions in St. John Arena.

The Class AA semifinals start the action Thursday night, March 23. The Class AAA semifinals are Friday, March 24, with the A semifinals following that night.

All championship games will be decided Saturday, March 25.

9 Remain Unsigned With Cleveland Indians

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Indians have signed all but nine of the 39 men on their 1972 roster, and a club spokesman says no problems are expected in getting the rest of the players in the fold by the time full training camp opens next Monday.

The list of signed players rose to 30 Tuesday, when the Tribe added the names of pitchers Denny Riddleberger and Dick Tidrow and infielder John Brohamer.

British Swimmer Stirrs Controversy

LONDON (AP) — Edgy British sports administrators bickered today over Janice Hunter, a 17-year-old swimmer who reportedly endangered her Olympic status by posing for advertising pictures.

Maryland Crushes Richmond, 76-61

"We can't get up for the little ones," sighed Maryland Coach Charles "Lefty" Driesell.
Fortunately, Lefty's 12th-ranked Terrapins got up after the intermission Tuesday night, outscored Richmond 10-2 in the opening four minutes of the second half and rolled to a 76-61 victory over the Spiders.

But collegiate basketball's biggest news of the day occurred not on the court but in one—in Minneapolis' U.S. District Court, to be precise—where Judge Earl Larson ruled that, unless the Big Ten Conference upholds the suspensions of Corky Taylor and Ron Behagen, the two Minnesota basketball players will be reinstated on the team.

The players were suspended by Minnesota and the Big Ten for their part in a brawl-marred game Jan. 25 between the Gophers and Ohio State.
Minnesota lifted the suspension three games later but the Big Ten maintained it and will conduct a hearing Thursday to decide the players' future.

"I hope we can get a fair hearing and get a chance to play again," said Behagen, who, along with Taylor, re-joined the Gophers Tuesday in practice for Saturday's key conference clash with Michigan. "Corky and I have been hurt," Behagen said, "but the team has been hurt more."

Richmond led 38-33 at the half before the host Terps, en route to their 19th victory in 22 games, went on their 10-2 tear, sparked by sophomore Tom McMillen, who scored 19 of his game-high 25 points in the second half.

Roger Hatcher scored 19 to lead the Spiders, 6-16.

In Tuesday night's other major action, Wisconsin rallied to whip Purdue 66-60 and Indiana raced away from Illinois 90-71 in Big Ten play; Southern Methodist ripped Texas Tech 87-73 and Texas A&M outlasted Baylor 101-95 in overtime in Southwest Conference play, and in a slowdown affair, Virginia Military edged William & Mary 37-35 in overtime.

Wisconsin blew a five-point halftime lead before Leon Howard, the Badgers' leading scorer with 16 points, sank two crucial field goals and a pair of free throws in the closing minutes to cool off the Boilermaker.

Indiana, with Jobie Wright scoring 26 points and John Ritter 23, posted its fifth straight Big Ten triumph, putting away Illinois in the opening minutes by streaking to a 21-9 lead.

SMU's Ruben Triplett led all scorers with 28 points, 14 of them at the free throw line, where the Mustangs hit 33 of 45 attempts to trip Tech.

Texas A&M, remaining in a tie atop the SWC with SMU, stalled its way to victory in the overtime against Baylor with Jeff Overhouse topping the Aggies with 22 points.

And VMI's Keydets, winning for the first time in 11 Southern Conference games, beat the Indians on a field goal with 1:28 to play by Bob Frank, the game's leading scorer with 12 points.

In other games, Texas topped Arkansas 92-86 in overtime on Harry Larrabee's six free throws in a 39-second span; Texas Christian outscored Rice 12-0 in the closing minutes for a 75-68 victory; Wichita State employed a torrid second-half fast break to run over Drake 95-71; Holy Cross withstood a second-half rally to beat St. John's, N.Y. 76-73, and a 16-point second-half scoring burst powered George Washington past East Carolina 84-74.

Defiance Nips Findlay

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Apparently looking ahead to the NAIA basketball playoffs, Defiance got a scare from visiting Findlay Tuesday night, but salvaged an 85-82 victory.
"It was the third time we've played Findlay this season," said Defiance Coach Marv Hohenberger, "and they really were going after us."

Defiance, titlist in the Ohio Division of the Hoosier-Buckeye Conference with a 6-0 mark and Ohio's winningest team at 21-1, found itself locked in an 82-82 tie with 1:20 left to play.

The Oilers had the ball and were stalling. Finally they took a shot, missed and Defiance got the rebound and Hohenberger called time.

"We had a plan," the coach said, "but we took our shot too soon and missed it and one of our players was fouled."

Rick Perz hit a free throw to give Defiance a one point lead, but missed his second shot. The Yellow Jackets again got the rebound and another foul was called on Findlay.

This time Ken Bush made both ends of a one-and-one situation with five seconds left to play to clinch the victory for Defiance.

"We did a good job on the boards," Hohenberger said later. "Our 28-15 rebound advantage in the second half made the difference."

Meanwhile, Urbana, the only team to beat Defiance, was surprised Tuesday night by a charged up Kenyon team that eaked out an 88-85 victory.

Kenyon had trailed all the way until with 4:30 left to play it scored 13 straight points to take an 85-79 lead and held on. Kenyon (9-14) was led by Marty Hunt with 30 points, while Urbana (22-6) was paced by Mark Todd with a game-high 33.

Ohio University downed Loyola of Chicago 84-76 after holding off a late rally by the visitors, who cut an 18-point margin to seven points but couldn't get any closer.

Tom Riccardi had 21 points for the Bobcats, while Loyola's Paul Cohen took game scoring honors with 25.

Elsewhere, Walsh defeated Mercyhurst 94-89 with the help of junior forward Herb Bowen who came off the bench to score 34 points; Wilmington came from behind to drop Cedarville 87-73, and Bluffton beat Anderson 106-95 as junior forwards John Brown and Clair Recker netted 33 and 30 points, respectively.

Lane And Anderson In Player Trade

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Donny Anderson, the Green Bay Packers' "Golden Palomino" who signed for an estimated $600,000 six years ago, said Tuesday his troubles that ultimately led to his departure from the team stemmed from a 1971 contract dispute.

Anderson, whose 3,061 yards rushing is fifth on the Packers' all-time list but who was shunted to the background last year by rookie John Brockington, went to the St. Louis Cardinals for running back MacArthur Lane in a straight player swap.

Gilly Jury Selection Continues

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP) — Jury selection went into its second day today in the trial of Paul Gilly, alleged gunman and go-between in the Yablonski murder plot.

One juror was selected from among 21 persons screened Tuesday in Washington County Court, Dorothy B. Andrews, about 55, a widow from nearby Independence, was sequestered at a local hotel after her selection.

Gilly, 38, a former Cleveland housepainter, is among five persons charged with murdering United Mine Workers rebel Joseph "Jock" Yablonski, his wife and daughter, more than two years ago.

The testimony phase of the trial is expected to begin next week and the key prosecution witness most likely will be Claude Vealey, who has pleaded guilty to the killings.

In a lengthy signed confession, Vealey claimed he, Gilly, and Aubran Martin broke into the Yablonski home in nearby Clarksville and pumped bullets into the victims in their beds.

Vealey further contends Gilly was the go-between with a man he identified only as "Tony" who allegedly paid $5,200 for the murders. Vealey added he had never seen "Tony" and that Gilly handled the money transactions.

Vealey was also the key prosecution witness against Martin, a baby-faced 23-year-old who was convicted last Nov. 12 and sentenced to death.

IRA Leader Held In Bomb Deaths

LONDON (AP) — A leader of the outlawed Irish Republican Army was arrested in Dublin early today as police in Britain hunted an IRA revenge squad that bombed an army base near London.

The blast at the Aldershot headquarters of Britain's 16th Parachute Brigade killed seven persons—five waitresses, a gardener and a Roman Catholic chaplain recently decorated for bravery in Northern Ireland.

An estimated 100 pounds of gelignite blew them to pieces. Seventeen persons were injured.

The IRA's leftist Official wing, assuming responsibility, said the bombing was in retaliation for the deaths of 13 Catholics in clashes with paratroopers of the 16th Brigade during Londonderry's "Bloody Sunday" on Jan. 30.

As British police sealed highways and checked planes and ships leaving the country, Irish detectives arrested Cathal Goulding, Marxist chief of staff of the IRA Officials.

Goulding, a 49-year-old housepainter, was one of four men seized in a series of post-midnight raids in Dublin and its suburbs.

The other three men were members of Sinn Fein, the IRA's political section, including general secretary Tony Hefiennan. All were held under the Offences Against the State Act which permits authorities to detain any person for 48 hours without charge.

The arrests set off speculation that Prime Minister Jack Lynch of Ireland has launched a promised crackdown on the IRA, which is waging guerrilla warfare to oust the British from Protestant-dominated Northern Ireland.

Lynch, who shares the IRA's aim of uniting Ireland but is against the use of force to achieve it, denounced the Aldershot bombing as "cowardly and senseless."

British detectives checked the homes of known IRA sympathizers in London, Birmingham and Manchester.

Scores of extra police were brought into Aldershot, a garrison town 40 miles southwest of London after Tuesday's blast which wrecked the glass-paned officers' mess hall at Parachute Brigade headquarters.

The bomb, left in a car parked outside, went off about 20 minutes before most officers were due for lunch. "The death toll would have been fantastic if the explosion had come half an hour later," a military spokesman said.

Lyndon, Ill. Now World Crow Capital

LYNDON, Ill. (AP) — The village board has proclaimed Lyndon the "Crow Capital of the World."

The resolution adopted Monday said that the new designation represented "the high hopes of Lyndon's residents in the future of the village, which is something to crow about."

Liquor Workers Threaten Strike

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The state liquor store employees' union has threatened a letter to Gov. John Gilligan to take "job action" if alleged hiring practices contrary to the union contract are not stopped by March 25.

The letter was signed by James Dickie, president of the Cleveland district of Council 21, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees.

Dickie said in the letter that Hiram Cannon, deputy director of the Ohio Department of Liquor Control, and James Menefee, employee relations director, are hiring part-time help to fill full-time positions in the eight-county area covered by the Cleveland district.

Living Costs Up In January By Small Margin

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of living climbed again in January, the second full month of Phase 2, but the rise was smaller than in December, the Labor Department announced today.

Consumer prices rose 0.1 per cent with increases for meats and new cars pushing up the over-all price level. After allowing for seasonal trends, the January bulge was 0.3 per cent, or equivalent to an inflation rate of 3.6 per year.

Since the start of the wage-price freeze in August, the index has climbed at a rate of 2.6 per cent, and in the six months preceding that it rose at an annual rate of 4.1 per cent.

Though disappointing to those who hoped for a better Phase 2 performance in holding the price line, the increase was no surprise to White House economists. They said December's 0.4 per cent increase was expected, and added that the post-freeze bulge could get worse before it got better.

The rise of 0.3 per cent in the adjusted index was equivalent to nibbling another 3 cents out of each consumer's $10 bill. The increase carried the index to 123.3 per cent of the 1967 average, which means that it cost $12.32 for the average city housewife to buy the same assortment of foods, goods and services that cost $10 in 1967.

The rise in meat prices, which has touched off consumer protests in Washington and elsewhere, was reported as 1.5 per cent in January. The increase in new car prices was 1.6 per cent.

There were some decreases as well. Lower prices were reported for fresh vegetables, clothing, used cars and gasoline.

The food price index actually declined 0.2 per cent in January, after allowing for seasonal factors; it had risen 0.7 per cent in each of the two preceding months. The index for food purchased in grocery stores, which usually increases at this season, was unchanged in January. This was largely due to a sharp drop in the prices of eggs and fresh vegetables—both exempt from price control.

North Carolina Ballot Fills Up

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Spokesmen say Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace and Rep. Shirley Chisholm of New York plan to enter North Carolina's presidential primary.

Spokesmen also indicated there is a possibility that two challengers of President Nixon—U.S. Reps. John N. Ashbrook of Ohio and Peter N. McCloskey of California, might run in a Republican ballot.

A survey of the candidates showed Tuesday U.S. Rep. Wilbur D. Mills of Arkansas is unlikely to run in North Carolina.

A Democrat, Sen. Harry Meschel of Youngstown, came to Armstrong's aid. He said he did not believe Republicans or any legislator had sold out to any special interest.

"I would urge you to be a little more cautious in the future," Meschel said. He said Mrs. Stebbins' accusations indicated that any legislator who did not vote for the bill exactly as she wanted it would be violating the public trust.

Armstrong and Meschel are both members of the subcommittee which was to meet today at 9:30 a.m. and again Thursday. Armstrong said it would report back to the full committee March 1.

Armstrong said the bill, which requires strip mine operators to return the land to its natural contour, would be amended. "I can't vote for it myself the way it is now," he said.

"We will take them all," he said of the amendments, "from the administration, the operators and the opponents."

Armstrong said he did not know how many amendments would be offered, but sources close to the committee said there would be more than 100.

Current strip mine legislation, adopted in 1965, was amended 70 times during a similar hearing then. A total of 108 amendments were submitted to a subcommittee.

Opponents, including Mrs. Stebbins, contend the current law is worthless. They say there was no provision for adequate enforcement.

Organized Labor Battles Wallace Bid In Florida

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — Organized labor fears a George C. Wallace victory in the Florida Democratic presidential primary and is mounting a special drive to persuade union members to vote against the Alabama governor.

"He's a bigot, a racist and he's antilabor right down to the soles of his feet," grumbled AFL-CIO President George Meany.

"I think Wallace might take Florida," Al Barkan, chief political strategist for the big labor federation, said in an interview Tuesday.

Barkan's Committee on Political Education has set up a special task force to work against Wallace's bid for the March 14 Florida primary and in other state primaries later.

Wallace, appealing for labor votes, so far is ignoring the criticism from big labor.

"I don't even want to answer it," Wallace said of Meany's verbal attack. "It doesn't deserve an answer."

AFL-CIO leaders view Wallace largely as a spoiler whose inroads into the labor vote will work against the Democratic nominee and help re-elect President Nixon.

Barkan's political committee cites relatively lower wages, unemployment insurance and other labor benefits in Alabama in urging workers to vote against Wallace.

In addition to mailing out literature criticizing Wallace's record on labor and racial matters, COPE is planning a special film on Wallace to be shown at union meetings.

"We are telling our members that they would be throwing their votes away in voting for Wallace and, even worse, helping re-elect President Nixon whom they strongly indicate they oppose," said James Kennedy, head of the three-man COPE task force working against Wallace.

Cornelia Wallace Is Hospitalized

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Cornelia Wallace, 33-year-old wife of Gov. George C. Wallace, has been hospitalized with a kidney infection which is expected to keep her off the campaign trail for a short time.

The governor's office reported Monday that Mrs. Wallace entered a hospital here for treatment after returning Sunday night from campaign activities in Daytona Beach, Fla., where she became ill.
